NEWS LETTER
FEBRUARY 2018

A WORD FROM THE
MANAGING PARTNER
JACK NICHOLS

Dear Investor,

Due to new drilling technologies developed in the energy industry in recent years, investment opportunities in mineral funds are highly sought-after. Their higher yield and comparatively low risk makes mineral funds an excellent addition to a diverse portfolio.

Access to investments in mineral funds is often restricted to Wall Street-level transactions with minimum investments of $500,000 or more, which locks out all but the super-rich private investor. Redhawk Investment Group is pleased to announce the forthcoming Redhawk Minerals Fund II at an affordable entry level of $12,500 for a limited time, targeted to open on March 15, 2018.

This mineral fund offering (open to accredited investors only) provides the independent-minded, non-technical, non-super-rich investor a unique opportunity to realize reliable wealth generation in the oil and gas industry.
